Adlai To Seek Nomination

Says Party Should Work For Better America, World

CHICAGO (AP) — Confident and beaming, Adlai E. Stevenson announced Tuesday what almost everybody already knew — that he will be a candidate for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson, the 1952 nominee who was defeated by President Eisenhower, struck a "prosperity and peace" theme in a 349-word announcement his aides handed reporters.

He said he will do all he can to persuade his party to let him lead it in a race where he may be opposed by a new Republican nominee instead of the President because:

"First, I believe it is important for the Democratic party to resume the executive direction of our national affairs; "Second, I am assured that my candidacy would be welcomed by representative people in and out of my party throughout the country; "Third, I believe any citizen should make whatever contribution he can to the search for a safer, saner world."

On this point Stevenson made a bold bid to wrest from the Republicans the "peace—prosperity—progress" slogan they have built up for the 1956 campaign. Said he:

"The task for the Democratic party is to make 'prosperity and peace' not a political slogan but an active search for a better America and a better world."

As the first candidate officially in the race in either party, Stevenson and his aides exuded confidence that he not only can win the nomination but will be able to dispose of Republican opposition in next year's election.

Friends said Stevenson's decision to run actually was made months ago before President Eisenhower was stricken with a heart attack.

Despite advance planning, there were two false starts on his announcement before its actual release. Stevenson later read his own words for the benefit of television and news reel cameras but postponed answering any questions until a news conference Wednesday.

Patently, Stevenson read his brief announcement three times for the cameramen, speaking in a solemn and modulated voice. He couldn't resist adding to his formal statement, however, the smiling notation that he expected it hardly came as a surprise.

There was much of the Stevenson of the 1952 campaign in evidence as he quipped with newsmen and cameramen packed into the large conference room in periods between his appearances before the cameras.

Anton Schuessler Buried Beside His Two Slain Sons

CHICAGO (P) — A shy German tailor was buried Tuesday beside the two slain sons he called his pride and his life.

Heartbroken by the brutal slaying of the boys Oct. 16, Anton Schuessler died Friday at a sanatorium while undergoing shock treatment after sleepless nights. The cause of the father's death was listed as a heart seizure.

Schuessler's sons, John, 13, and Anton Jr., 11, and their friend, Robert Peterson, 14, were found in a forest ditch Oct. 18 — beaten, hacked and strangled. Their killers have not been found.

"They were my life," grieved Schuessler, owner of a small tailor shop, who spent his own boyhood in Germany.

After the bodies were found Schuessler closed his tailor shop to devote his time to the search for the killers. A psychiatrist at the sanatorium where he died testified later that Schuessler even had an obsession he might have killed the boys, unknowingly. This was in spite of a lie detector test he took at his own request which completely cleared him of any knowledge of the crime.

Mrs. Schuessler, alone now except for a bird and a dog that were family pets, said her husband died of a broken heart.

DEER HUNTERS MAROONED IN UTAH MOUNTAINS

OGDEN, Utah (P) — Paint radio signals reported nine deer hunters marooned at a remote ranger station in the rugged Wasatch Mountains Tuesday. Officials dispatched a snowmobile to their rescue. They also made plans to fly over the area to drop supplies and see if others might be in trouble.

While the temperature plunged to more than 20 degrees below zero in the mountains Monday night, the hunters were believed in no immediate danger.

They were trapped at the Monte Cristo ranger station by a sudden heavy snowfall. Their radio reports said the snow was 46 inches deep.

Stratton Sees Trend Towards Greater Home Rule

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P) — Gov. Stratton Tuesday told Illinois mayors there is "every indication in this state of a trend toward greater home rule" for local governments.

The governor, addressing the Illinois Municipal League's annual convention, also said there is a trend toward "greater cooperation" between the state government and city officials.

"We are undergoing a resurgence of local government, whether it be on the state level or local level," he declared.

Stratton said the 1955 general assembly and his administration were "very generous" in approving legislation to help cities, chiefly the half cent city sales tax, and that he has been "gratified with the way cities have met their responsibilities."

At the closing session, the league elected Mayor Leo Struif of Alton as president, succeeding Mayor Paul Johnson of Moline. Mayor Charles V. Wellner of Naperville was named to the stepping stone office of first vice president.

The convention adopted resolutions for a study looking toward greater home rule for cities and requesting Congress to act promptly on proposals for a 10-year federal highway program.

Dr. Dryden Wins Wright Brothers Memorial Trophy

WASHINGTON (P) — Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, a top expert on guided missiles and supersonic aircraft, was announced Tuesday night as the winner of the Wright brothers memorial trophy for "significant public service of enduring value to aviation."

Dryden, 57, is director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA), the nation's major research agency.

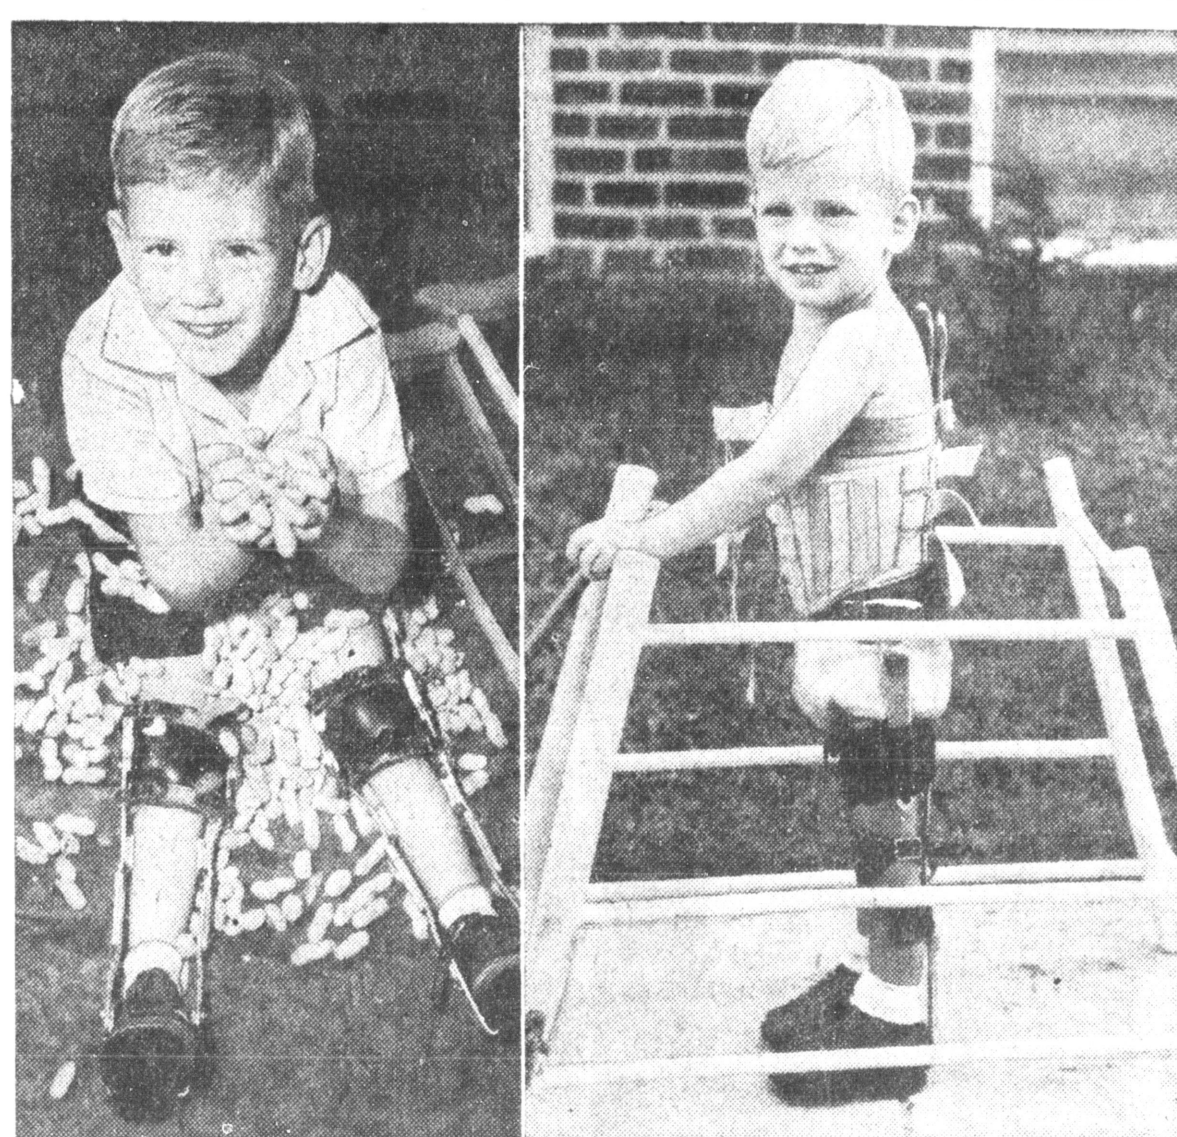

Dryden was cited particularly for "pioneering work on the measurement of turbulence in wind tunnels and on the mechanics of flow within the boundary layer." The boundary layer is the thin layer of air around and along the wing and tail surfaces of an airplane.

It had been moved into the new house he is building.

Monday night, thieves broke in the window and carted the furnace out the door.

ENGLISH CELEBRATE OUR THANKSGIVING—This year, as in the past, America's Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November, will be celebrated in the English town pictured above. It's Boston (Pop. 24,000), in Lincolnshire County, from which the Massachusetts capital received its name. It was from this seaport that the Pilgrims first tried to set sail for the New World. Landmark of the town is the Church of St. Botolph. The name "Boston" is said to be a contraction of St. Botolph's Stone, from which the saint preached Christianity, according to British Railways.

HE'LL LEAD FIGHT ON POLIO—Meet five-year-old Tommy Woodward, who has been named Poster Boy for the 1956 March of Dimes. He's shown here as he looks today and as he looked in 1952. At left, he offers some of the peanuts which will be sold to raise funds in the campaign against polio, Jan. 3 to 31. At right, the Baltimore, Md., youngster is shown when he was two years old. Tommy was stricken with polio when he was 14 months old. Although he'll have to use crutches and wear his braces and body corset for years to come, he smiles readily. That's why his freckled face will appear on millions of posters and collection boxes during the drive.

Soviet Proposals For Security Pact Get Cold Shoulder

GENEVA (P) — The Western Allies turned down Tuesday night a new Soviet bid for a European security pact based on the continued division of Germany.

They also rejected a draft declaration by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov which would commit the Big Four powers to consider the disarmament problem in future with emphasis on the Russian objective of banning atomic weapons.

Molotov's repeated efforts to divorce European security from German unity got a chilly Western reception.

"As long as Mr. Molotov persists in his refusal to agree to discuss German reunification by means of free elections," U.S. Secretary of State Dulles said, "we are not prepared to consider fragmentary Soviet proposals to put asunder what the four heads of government joined together."

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan said that "Since Mr. Molotov on his return from Moscow in effect tore up the (summit conference) directive by refusing to discuss the prospect of a reunited Germany under a system of free elections, it seems to us that discussion of these projects is irrelevant and contrary to the will and the spirit of the directive under which we are working."

French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay said he had made clear the views of his government "concerning the two inseparable parts of Item One of our agenda (European security and German reunification)."

"Mr. Molotov did not feel that he could pursue this road... I express my very strong regret," Pinay added.

On the eve of concluding the deadlocked 21-day parley, the Western ministers resolved not to consent at this time to another conference with Molotov in 1956.

Urges Single Shots Of Salk Polio Vaccine

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Single shots of Salk Polio vaccine for many millions of children might "prevent epidemics next year" — because the vaccine works so well, a government scientist said Tuesday.

Twice as many children could get protection if each received one rather than two shots from available supplies of vaccine, he said.

The latest official government report said single shots had reduced paralytic polio by 50 to 80 per cent or better this year.

Survivors Of 13 Crash Victims To Collect $655,000

CHICAGO (P) — Survivors of thirteen of the passengers who died in the crash of a United Air Lines plane in Colorado two weeks ago will be paid a total of $655,000 by the Continental Casualty Co., one of the largest writers of coin machine travel insurance.

This was announced Tuesday by John Cramer, superintendent of the aviation accident division of the Chicago insurance firm. He said Continental wrote the bulk of the flight insurance taken out by passengers on the ill-fated plane.

Forty four persons, including the crew, died in the crash, caused by a time bomb in one of the passengers' luggage. A 23-year-old Denver man, John Gilbert Graham, has been charged with sabotaging the plane to get $37,500 in insurance he had taken out on his mother, who was flying to Alaska.

That policy was not one of the 13 taken out with Continental Casualty Co. It was invalid because the Denver man neglected to have his mother sign the policy.

Two other insurance companies, Associated Aviation Underwriters of New York and Mutual Benefit Assn. of Omaha, also sell insurance in coin operated machines at airports. However, it was understood their loss in the Colorado crash was considerably less than Continental's.

Passengers may deposit up to $2.50 in the coin-operated machines. The rate is 4 cents per $1,000 of insurance and the maximum insurance any one passenger may take out is $62,500.

It was learned that two of the biggest policies were taken out by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Morgan of suburban Wilmette, leaving a total of $125,000 for their two daughters, Sharon, 14, and Susan, 12.

CROAK BACKFIRES; REDS SPY ON REDS

LONDON (P) — Jiri Hajek, Czechoslovakia's ambassador to Britain, possessed Tuesday one of the reddest faces of all Communist envoys to the Court of St. James's.

The ambassador, who maintains an embassy building in a private house in London, found that someone had hidden a microphone in his office.

He lodged a vigorous protest with the British Foreign Office, saying he expected British officials to make a thorough inquiry and punish the culprits.

The Foreign Office investigated. A government official said Tuesday this is what was reported to Hajek: The ambassador's office had been wired for sound. Microphones, or listening devices, had been planted there.

Six Marines Lost In U.S.-Canadian Naval Maneuvers

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (P) — Six Marines were lost in battering surf Tuesday, bringing the toll of death in current U.S.-Canadian naval maneuvers to 11.

The 1st Division Marines, including the commanding officer of the 3rd Amphibious Tractor Battalion, were hurled into the surf when their landing craft capsized.

Two bodies, including that of the battalion commander, were recovered.

Search for the other four was continuing while the rest of the 15,000 Marines swarmed ashore from transports of the amphibious force onto a Camp Pendleton beach.

Five men were killed Friday when a Navy Skyraider bomber crashed onto the U.S. destroyer Hopewell. They were the three fliers and two Hopewell crewmen. Five others aboard the Hopewell were burned.

The rugged sea, lashed by a 25-mile an hour wind, capsized the amphibious craft and a rubber boat only a short distance from the beach. Other Marines in them were able to swim ashore.

ALL BUT 5% CORN IN STATE HARVESTED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P) — A final report on the Illinois harvest season showed Tuesday that all but about five per cent of the corn has been husked.

The State - Federal Agriculture Departments said soybean combining remains to be one in only a few scattered fields.

Farmers are turning from the harvest to plowing and discing corn stalks in preparation for next year's crops, the departments said in their last bulletin until next April.

Will Ask Death For Saboteur Of Plane

President Will Meet With Security Council, Cabinet Next Week

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (P) — President Eisenhower plans to hold early next week his first meetings with the National Security Council and Cabinet in more than three months.

The chief executive also will confer Thursday and Friday with Secretary of State Dulles, who is flying back from the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

The setting up of the series of meetings were part of the official business Eisenhower got in Tuesday as he combined a little work with some leisurely physical exercises.

In the role of country squire, Eisenhower walked around his farm this morning for about an hour and a half. And in the afternoon he got in a few putts on a newly installed green near his country home.

The chief executive hasn't met with the Security Council or Cabinet since he left for Denver Aug. 14, for a work and fun vacation interrupted by his Sept. 24 heart attack.

Next week's sessions will be held at Camp Davis, the presidential retreat in the Catskill Mountains near Thurmont, Md. The President will drive the 25 miles to Camp Davis and Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he probably will spend the night there.

The exact days haven't been selected yet. But Hagerty said both meetings will be over by Wednesday—in advance of Thanksgiving Day.

For the longest period since his Sept. 24 heart attack, Eisenhower was out in the brisk fall air, walking and jumping around the place. He admired the progress on the lawn, expressed pleasure over newly planted trees and looked over a new greenhouse.

Dressed in comfortable sports attire, he put in about a quarter of a mile on foot Tuesday morning—the most walking he has done in one stretch since his illness. Strolling with him was his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder.

Later Eisenhower called in his secretary, Mrs. Ann Whitman, for some dictation, in advance of the arrival from Washington of his (Continued on Page Thirteen)

COLDER THAN NORMAL WEATHER PREDICTED

WASHINGTON (P) — The Weather Bureau predicted Tuesday it will be colder than usual for the season during the next 30 days in most of the area west of the Mississippi river.

The bureau's 30-day outlook added that the biggest dips from normal temperatures would be in the northwest.

"Above normal temperatures are indicated in Florida and northern New England and near normal elsewhere," the bureau said.

"Precipitation is expected to be subnormal in the Pacific Northwest, along the South Atlantic coast, and in the far Southwest. In the remainder of the country near or above normal amounts of rain and snow are indicated."

TESTS FOR DRAFT DEFERMENT

CHICAGO (P) — The Illinois Selective Service office announced Tuesday that 39 colleges and universities in Illinois will be testing centers this Thursday for college men seeking draft deferment.

The test is designed for mid-term students who never before have taken such an examination. Another is scheduled for April 19, 1956, for those whose academic year ends in summer.

The passing grade is 70. Local draft boards have the final say on who should get the deferments (lasting up to one year).

FLY BURNED SEAMEN FROM RADAR SHIP — Seamen, burned in a fire aboard the U.S.S. Searcher, a Navy radar picket boat which stands off-shore about 125 miles, are lowered into life boat to be transferred to Coast Guard PBM rescue plane. The men were flown to Floyd Bennett Field, N.Y., and rushed by helicopter to a nearby hospital. Air Defense Command has rushed another picket ship to take up sentry duty on the radar alert.

Colorado Takes Over Prosecution

DENVER (AP) — The State of Colorado Tuesday took over prosecution of John Gilbert Graham and Denver Dist. Atty. Bert M. Keating said he would ask death in the gas chamber for the man charged with sabotage of a United Air Lines plane which killed 44 persons.

The federal government asked the state to handle the case after it was found there was no federal statute of murder applicable.

Graham, 23, baby-faced playboy and forger, was arrested by the FBI Monday on a charge of placing a dynamite bomb aboard the plane in the luggage of his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, who died in the crash near here Nov. 1.

Graham, father of two young children, took out a $37,500 insurance policy on his mother just before she boarded the plane for a visit with her daughter in Anchorage, Alaska. He also was an heir to his mother's estate valued at around $150,000.

The maximum federal penalty for the offense, "peace-time sabotage," is 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. So U. S. Atty. Donald E. Kelley, after conferring by telephone with the Department of Justice in Washington, turned the prosecution over to the state.

Graham was formally charged with murder of his mother in a complaint signed by W.A. Patterson of Chicago, president of United Airlines.

Graham was held under extra security precautions in the Denver County jail. Warden Gordon Dilliver said he had received a telephoned threat from an unidentified man threatening a mob would storm the jail to take Graham out.

Graham's cell was isolated from other prisoners and guards kept a 24-hour watch on him.

Keating said Graham would be tried first on a charge of murdering his mother but he would hold over Graham's head, for use if necessary, 43 other potential murder charges in one of the worst cases of mass killing on record.

At the same time, a federal hearing into another United Air Lines crash took a bizarre turn when a witness testified the crew of the plane which smashed into Medicine Bow Peak Oct. 6 may have been mysteriously incapacitated.

Sixty-six persons died in this crash—the worst in America's commercial aviation history — when a DC4 rammed into the 12,005-foot peak on the Colorado-Wyoming border on a flight from Denver to Salt Lake City.

Warren D. Williams, manager of flight operations for United in San Francisco, where the crew of that plane was based, told a Civil Aeronautics Board of Inquiry:

"I believe it possible the crew could have been incapacitated. How or why I don't know."

Testimony at the Medicine Bow crash inquiry, which opened Monday, indicated the plane was off (Continued on Page Thirteen)

EGYPT'S FOLLY

Since responsible men have come to understand that small wars can too easily flare into big ones, few talk rashly of undertaking even minor military aggressions.

The Red Chinese spouted arrogantly earlier this year on the subject of Formosa and the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu. But at least for a time they have quieted, and are doing nothing to carry out their threats against those territories.

It comes as something of a jolt, therefore, to realize that there are powerful elements in Egypt which actually talk openly of launching war on neighboring Israel.

The most charitable thing that can be said for those who talk thus is that they are woefully ignorant of the dangers inherent in this course. We must assume the Egyptians and other revengeful Arabs have heard of nuclear weapons. We can only conclude they do not grasp how easy it might be to slip from "limited war" to a general holocaust.

Perhaps their understanding would be aided if they were not so blinded by hatred of Israel. Said the Cairo radio not long ago: "Israel needs a lesson."

Not Egypt alone but all the Arab states believe Israel should be struck a blow. In fact, one reason Egypt is now unloading Russian-made arms in its ports is because the present government under Premier Nasser wants the country to maintain a position of leadership in the Arab world.

Regional leadership that must be bought at the price of undertaking a risky war of revenge is not leadership that history will commend. Nor is it leadership that men of genuine responsibility will admire.

Nasser frankly acknowledges that the arms build-up is necessary also to keep the Egyptian army in support of his government. Lack of equipment was a big reason for the revolution that brought Nasser to power.

This makes incredible reading in the atomic age. One can hardly digest the notion that the leader of a weak nation in a hitherto weak coalition of states would risk widespread war in his narrow little campaign to maintain his regime.

Neither this effort nor the broad Arab desire for revenge against Israel will gain Egypt or its friends much sympathy in a world eager above all to have done with wars—big or small.

In 1950 the West declared for maintenance of the existing borders and power balance between Israel and the Arab nations. Apparently it does not yet see Israel in such peril today that either arms aid or new guarantees are required.

But meantime Russia, deaf to all pleas, goes on shipping the arms to Egypt. We have Egypt's own word for it that it would like to use these arms.

The West, for its own selfish purposes (bases and oil fields), would not like to jeopardize further its already fragile relations with the Arabs. But if they persist in pressing narrow causes at the possible cost of the whole world's security, the West will have no choice but to throw much greater weight on the side of keeping the present Israel-Arab balance.

NEW YORK (AP)—The pushbutton era is just dawning in the hotel industry — but what a glorious dawn!

It promises a golden time a-come when the weary wayward traveler will be less dependent on the sometimes frigid hospitality of an officious desk clerk, or the tired courtesy of an overworked bellhop.

In the electronic age now coming to flower, a hotel guest will be able to lie in bed and by pushing a series of buttons in a panel accomplish the following things:

Summon a valet without having to go through the switchboard downstairs.

Order fresh ice and glasses or the morning newspaper, which will pop into the room via a pneumatic tube.

Lock or unlock the door.

Turn the lights off or on throughout the room.

Dictate business letters at night and find them typed and ready for signature at his bedside in the morning.

Control the temperature and humidity in the room—and determine what the weather is like outside.

Open or close the window shades.

Get the latest radio news or watch a television program in the panel of one of the walls.

Set a clock that will waken him with soft chimes at any hour he chooses.

Protect him or any other guest against fire. An automatic alarm will detect and signal the location of fire anywhere in the hotel.

The pushbutton servants on a bedside console are just a few of the revolutionary gimmicks designed by the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Co. and shown here at the recent convention of the American Hotel Assn.

Another time-saving idea was an electronic brain device called "The computer center—registration desk."

Some of its possible functions: The automatic registration of guest, the assignment of rooms, and the transmission of mail and messages to guests, and the computing of bills.

The dined machine can even make change. It probably could be taught to say "thank you," too—except who even dreams any more today of being thanked when he pays a bill? Most people today are grateful if they get all their fingers back.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The trouble with today's film idols is that they're dog-faced, says Betty Blythe, a movie star before many of them were born.

Miss Blythe was one of the vamps of the silent screen, her most notable role being "The Queen of Sheba" in 1921. She knew how it felt to be world famous, then to fall from favor. Having recovered from the death of her devoted husband, director Paul Scardon, she has returned to acting.

She made her return on last week's Video Theater over NBC-TV. She paused to make this observation about today's leading men:

"It's too bad that they're dog-faced. They have pug noses and square faces, just like dogs. They may be good actors and have rugged qualities, but I always looked for beauty in actors. I think they should be pleasant to look at, the way they were in the silent days.

"We had them then. Men like Ramon Novarro, whom I discovered for films. And Ronald Colman, who was an extra in one of my pictures."

On the other hand, she admired present-day film queens for their freedom.

"They can do anything they want. I think it's wonderful," she remarked. "They can wear blue jeans in public or scarves on their heads. Nobody cares."

"When I was working for Sammy Goldwyn, he would never allow me to appear in public unless I was the height of elegance. How I longed to hop on a Fifth Ave. bus and take a ride! But it would have been unthinkable to mingle with the public."

SO THEY SAY

One does not have to be a drip to be a good and holy person. It does not mean we must be gloomy or puritanical to live the kind of life Christ expects us to live.

Colorful Fruit Ring Is Tasty Christmas Project

SO PRETTY that it would make a table centerpiece, Fruit Ring also is a delicious holiday confection.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's a Christmas wreath you'll love to eat—a sweet light yeast cake chock full of sugar, and spice and everything nice. It's colorful enough to be a centerpiece. The tricky twist is easy to do and allows a peep of the fruited filling.

Fruit Ring

One-half cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 4 tablespoons shortening, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast), 2 packages of cakes yeast, active dry or compressed, 2 eggs, beaten, 5 cups enriched flour.

Salt milk; stir in sugar, shortening and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, for active dry yeast, lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Blend in lukewarm milk mixture. Add eggs and half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush top with butter. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, about 1 hour 15 minutes or until doubled in bulk. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Roll dough into a rectangle 1-3-inch thick. Spread dough with Fruit Filling and roll jelly-roll fashion. Cut in half lengthwise. Twist the two strips of dough, cut edge up; form into a ring. Place on a greased baking sheet. Cover and let rise in warm place free from draft until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 375 degrees F. (moderate oven) 35 to 40 minutes. While warm brush with confectioners' sugar frosting and decorate as desired.

Fruit Filling: Combine 1 1/4 cups ground raisins, 2-3 cup brown sugar, 4 tablespoons orange juice and 1 teaspoon orange rind.

Confectioners' Sugar Frosting: Combine 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar with enough slightly beaten egg white to make a spreading consistency.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Broiled chopped meat patties, whipped potatoes, braised celery, enriched bread, butter or margarine, cole slaw, special fruit ring, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans had two good sales talks on ice for the 1956 elections: President Eisenhower got a truce in Korea and helped create the "spirit of Geneva." One of them is melting fast.

The Republicans, unless fighting begins again, can still point to the truce. But the Geneva spirit may have disappeared into never-never land. It looks pretty dispirited after the Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

Eisenhower, at his July meeting with Soviet Premier Bulganin, said something of "great benefit" to mankind might come of it. And the Russians talked of the "spirit of mutual trust."

Mutual trust is what the foreign ministers showed the least of at their present meeting, which was supposed to be the first big test of the Geneva spirit.

And the "great benefit" to mankind hasn't appeared unless it is in men's ears which, since Geneva, got some relief from the strident criticism the United States and Russia had hurled at each other. Both sides toned it down.

Before they quit Wednesday the foreign ministers will probably issue a statement that tries to put a pleasant face on their dismal meeting and say they hope to meet again.

At this meeting—regardless of which was right or wrong—the West and Russia sounded like old phonograph records of themselves. They said only what they had said before on the basic problems separating them.

Neither side budged. Since the foreign ministers only stated positions, and didn't negotiate, they were rather propagandists than diplomats.

One example is enough to show how slim is the chance they can agree fully in the future: The West wants Germany united and in a Western military alliance; the Russians want just the opposite. Germany has become the prize of Europe.

Since the world, given a publicity buildup about the spirit of Geneva, had hoped for some progress at Geneva, the foreign ministers had to keep world opinion in mind at all times.

So they were very restrained in dealing with one another. Neither side could afford to appear like the killer of the spirit. Each had to appear both just and reasonable.

Secretary of State Dulles could hardly be unmindful of the practical political considerations at home for his doing what he could—even though the meeting failed—to keep some part of the Geneva spirit alive.

If some progress toward world peace can be made before the 1956 elections, the Republicans ought to be able to get good mileage out of the Geneva spirit in the campaign. But it will take tangible progress.

Some Shrewd Betting Odds Come Out of Press Poll

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Three hundred Washington correspondents who collaborated with this column on a political opinion poll, a year in advance of the 1956 presidential election, came up with a number of shrewd observations on the situation today. Also, they volunteered some good, early winter book betting odds on the possible outcome.

For instance, Richard Harkness of NBC makes an estimate of one-to-five odds that President Eisenhower will be a candidate for reelection. This is probably a pretty good bet, either way. It is confirmed by the poll result which shows 82 per cent of the Washington press and radio reporters believing that Ike will not run for a second term.

On the question of whether the Republican convention will nominate Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency, Arthur Krook of the New York Times puts the odds at six to four that Nixon will be the nominee.

MR. KROCK MAKES CLEAR that any political opinion expressed now is "pure speculation" this far ahead of election day. But in the realm of speculation on the question of whether Chief Justice Earl Warren will consent to accept the GOP presidential nomination in case Eisenhower does not run, the Times columnist observes: "Only in case of war or its lark shadow."

Richard Strout of the Christian Science Monitor, Edward J. Michaelson of Boston Herald-Traveler and Berkshire Evening Eagle, A. L. Davis of Buffalo News, Cabell Phillips of New York Times and a number of others think that Warren would run if President Eisenhower insisted on it, or if the GOP convention were to draft him.

Even as neutral an observer as Henry Brandon of London Times thinks Warren could be drafted, and would accept a draft. But one unshared reply in the poll put the odds at seven to three against Warren's running.

ALFRED M. FRIENDLY, managing editor of Washington Post and Times Herald, William H. Stringer of Christian Science Monitor, Ed

Edstrom of Louisville Courier Journal, Roger Greene of Associated Press, and Edgar Ansell Mowrer the columnist, among others, say today that in case Eisenhower is not the Republican candidate, the only way the GOP can win is to nominate Warren.

Bascomb N. Timmons, veteran political writer who heads his own news bureau, qualifies this opinion with the observation that "Warren wouldn't leave a sure life job unless his chances of victory were very bright."

William A. Garrett of Gannett newspapers thinks that Republican and Democratic chances of victory today are just 50-50—an even money bet. This is probably a fair average estimate of Washington reportorial opinion as of now.

Gould Lincoln of Washington Star, dean of all political writers in the United States, thinks now that the Democratic ticket will be Stevenson and Kefauver, the Republican ticket Nixon and Rep. Charlie Halleck of Indiana. A majority of the correspondents reporting in this poll agree with Lincoln on the first three names. But he is the only one who gives Halleck a chance.

GETTING INTO SOME REALLY long odds, Russ Tornabene of NBC serves as spokesman for a dozen or more anonymous correspondents reporting in the poll. They believe that the Republican presidential team will be made up of two dark horses—candidates whose names aren't yet prominent in speculation. These entrants would be 100-to-one shots—the field against the favorites.

Paul Leach, who is retiring this year after long and distinguished service as political writer for Chicago Daily News and other Knight newspapers, sums up this point of view with the observations that any predicting this far ahead "is really looking into a clouded crystal ball."

To many Washington correspondents still remember how wrong they were in 1948 when Truman upset the Dewey apple cart. Nobody wants to get caught out on the end of a limb like that again. This cuts down on the number willing to make a prediction or a guess.

Blood Condition Is First To Bow to Radioactivity

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

"Our 29-year-old son," writes Mrs. B., "has what our doctor calls polycythemia. Would you explain this to us?"

I am rather astonished by the number of inquiries I receive concerning polycythemia, since it is considered a fairly rare disorder. Perhaps it is more common than generally realized. Or perhaps those who have some contact with it are puzzled and therefore more likely to inquire about it.

Polycythemia vera (true polycythemia) is a disease in which there are too many red blood cells in the system. In this respect it is the direct opposite of anemia, in which there are too few. The excess of red blood cells may be only slight or there may be twice as many as normal.

THE SYMPTOMS of polycythemia differ from person to person. A brick-red flushing of the face and hands is often present. Headaches, dizziness and inability to work well are fairly common.

The disease cannot be diagnosed by these symptoms alone, but counting the red blood cells under the microscope is essential.

Polycythemia has been known for many years. Many kinds of treatments have been tried, the most common one being repeated removal of blood from a vein. Such repeated small bleedings do not, of course, cure the condition but do get rid of some of the extra red blood cells.

Other treatments are the use of drugs aimed at destroying some of the excessive red cells. In some cases this kind of treatment has been quite successful.

IN RECENT YEARS phosphorus which has been used with considerable success.

Phosphorus, of course, is one of the elements, and like many others can be charged with radioactivity by means of the cyclotron or "atom splitting" apparatus. If this is done the phosphorus will give off certain kinds of rays which are commonly called radioactivity. Because the phosphorus loses this radioactivity quite rapidly, however, it is safer than some other radioactive substances.

WHEN GIVEN TO PATIENTS with polycythemia, the phosphorus unites with the red cells and destroys some of them, thus bringing the number down toward normal.

This method of treatment for polycythemia seems to be the best so far developed. Indeed, polycythemia is one of the first diseases for which beneficial results have been obtained as a result of the discoveries in nuclear physics and atomic research. However, even this treatment is not perfect and the search for other and better methods still goes on.

'Cute' Christmas Gifts More Fantastic Than Ever

The November magazines are out—fat and heavy with Christmas advertising.

Leafing through a few of them I have been overwhelmed by all the gadgets and "cute" gift suggestions that are going to wind up under somebody's tree.

There's a miniature Spode plate meant to be set before the man of a house as a dinner table ash tray that asks the unkind and perhaps even fight-provoking question, "Who Burnt the Tablecloth?"

There is also a set of three guest towels, at a fancy price, that announce in vivid letters, "Stolen from the Ritz," "Stolen from the Plaza," "Stolen from the Astor."

Then there's a poodle made of black wrought iron whose midsection is designed to hold a package of regular and a package of king-size cigarettes.

OVERNIGHT TOOTH COSY TOPS THE LIST

There's even a necktie for the man who has everything made of a genuine dollar bill pleated and held at the center by a silver dollar clip. The advertisement for this one says: "Wait till you see what it does to a sedate cocktail party."

And I mustn't forget the pink snake that "coils around any liquor bottle." It is, so the blurb says, "the kind of sophisticated nonsense that will tempt every Adam on your list."

For the "gal with a sense of humor" there is an apron called a "Loonie," that looks for all the world like its wearer has simply tied a pair of Grandma's bloomers around her waist.

But most frighteningly playful of all the gift suggestions I have seen across so far this season is the plastic case for the overnight parking of false teeth.

The makers of this imaginative little gift even offer to personalize it by a name. The advertisement said: "Take a look and you will know how Harry's teeth stay just so."

Manners Make Friends

Christmas is coming sooner than you think, and now's the time to lay in a stock of Christmas newspaper with which to acknowledge out-of-town gifts and unexpected Christmas cards.

"Seasonal" newspapers will help to spur you to do the correct and considerate thing—acknowledge promptly all expressions of thoughtfulness which you receive.

Naples Couple Exchange Vows At Parsonage

The Brooklyn church parsonage, home of the Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Tucker, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Charlene Bailey and James Merriman of Naples.
Heirloom sterling candlesticks holding lighted tapers and white satin ribbon bows interspersed with palm was the setting for the ceremony performed by Rev. Tucker.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey of Naples, Ill. She wore a dress of ice blue brocade taffeta with a matching hat of velvet. Her attendant was Mrs. Donald Collison, who was dressed in navy taffeta with matching accessories.
The groom's attendant was Donald Collison of Bluffs. After the ceremony refreshments were served at a beautifully decorated table. The bride and groom departed for a short honeymoon.

"NO, IT'S NOT THE PRESIDENT!"—With all due respect, Marine T/Sgt. Albert J. Eisenhower sometimes wishes he had another name. He and his family live at Bolling Field in Washington, D.C., and their number is in the phone book—which is where all the trouble starts. They get so many calls from "crackpots, drunks and just kids" who want to talk to the President they're thinking of getting a private listing. The sergeant is shown at home with his children, Robert Charles 5, and Frances Margaret, 20 months. In picture behind children, President Eisenhower seems to be enjoying the "joke" on his namesake.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

Adlai Stevenson's announcement he again will seek the Democratic presidential nomination creates hardly a ripple in political affairs. He's been running all along, and there is no doubt he is at present the leading candidate.

More titillating is the expressed reaction of Averell Harriman, governor of New York, formerly a highly respected member of the Democratic team of international experts, and the apple of some important Democratic eyes. Harriman said Stevenson had done well in 1952, and would do well again, with the full support of New York "if renominated." Earlier in the day Harriman had said anybody who wanted the nomination would have to work for it. "I'm not going to work for it," he said.

He didn't issue any orders to stop against those who have been doing the work for him.

As for the other man who has been mentioned among the Democratic "Big Three" possibilities, Estes Kefauver, his friends went right ahead watching, listening and working, too. But much time has passed since he was the popular chairman of the much-televized Senate Crime Investigating Committee, and he is from Tennessee, sometimes called a border state, but still farther South than any major party candidate has come from in modern times.

As for the other hopefuls, their major reliance was on the possibility that the top men would block one another out of the game. Stevenson's statement is a modest one, but representing an attitude far different from the one he displayed in 1952, when he waited for the party to draft him. Now he has nine months of campaigning before the convention, and will probably enter a number of presidential primaries.

Even though Harriman is probably not as reluctant as he sounds, this develops a possibility which might be used to further complicate Republican troubles.

Stevenson is a widely respected man on a nonpartisan basis. When President Eisenhower was believed practically certain to seek renomination, nearly all Democrats were willing to let Stevenson have the honor of trying to unseat him. Against a lesser Republican figure, many others decided they might have a chance. This produced talk of a wide-open convention.

Now that Stevenson's determination is clear, there could be some changes of heart. Not only because of the formidable Stevenson, but also for the sake of party unity, now that many observers are discounting another Southern secession movement.

There is already widespread talk that, lacking Eisenhower, the Republicans are going to have a very rough time putting over any one less than Chief Justice Earl Warren, who has issued a most unequivocal rejection of the idea. If the Democrats should produce great signs of unity before their convention, you can expect a lot more "Draft Warren" talk.

Cites Need For Colleges To Meet Higher Enrollment

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of Rutgers University, told the Assn. of Land Grant Colleges and Universities today that higher education must increase the productivity of its staff and plants if it is to keep up with mounting enrollments.

Dr. Jones, who also is president of the association, said in a speech that college enrollments will be doubled by 1960 or 1970 on the basis of population increases and a growing desire of Americans to go to college.

Educators must be inventive in devising labor-saving methods for teachers, he said.

Dr. David D. Henry, president of the University of Illinois, suggested the teacher shortage might be dramatized if each business which hired a teacher away from a school would pay for his replacement.

"Every time a business uses its higher dollar bargaining position to attract an experienced teacher to leave the classroom, that employer's intangible assets are being used up," Dr. Henry said.

Ships Start For Antarctic; Byrd Will Go Later

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Two cargo ships bound for the antarctic headed southward along the Atlantic coast today on the first leg of an expedition whose leader, Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, called "an important milestone in history."

The ships Wyandott and Arnes, the latter the flagship of Rear Adm. George Dufek, were wished God speed by Byrd and other naval and government dignitaries Monday as they left here to begin this nation's permanent occupation of bases at the bottom of the world.

Dufek is commander of the task force. The five other ships in the expedition sailed last week. Byrd, America's foremost polar explorer, came to Norfolk to see the vessels off. He will join the convoy later in New Zealand. He plans to remain in the antarctic for two years, except for an occasional trip back to the United States to "have legislation enacted" for benefit of the project known as Operation Deepfreeze.

Seven stations will be established on the antarctic continent by the expedition and 70 American scientists will conduct geophysical studies at those stations in 1957 and 1958.

Pilot Bails Out; State Police Seek Wreckage Of Plane

BINGHAM, Ill. (AP)—A pilot lost in bad weather and his fuel supply running out, safely from his propeller-driven plane late Monday near this town 60 miles northeast of St. Louis.

Lt. (jg) D. Cheney, stationed at the Naval Air Station at Columbus, Ohio, was on a flight from there to the Naval Air Station at St. Louis when he bailed out.

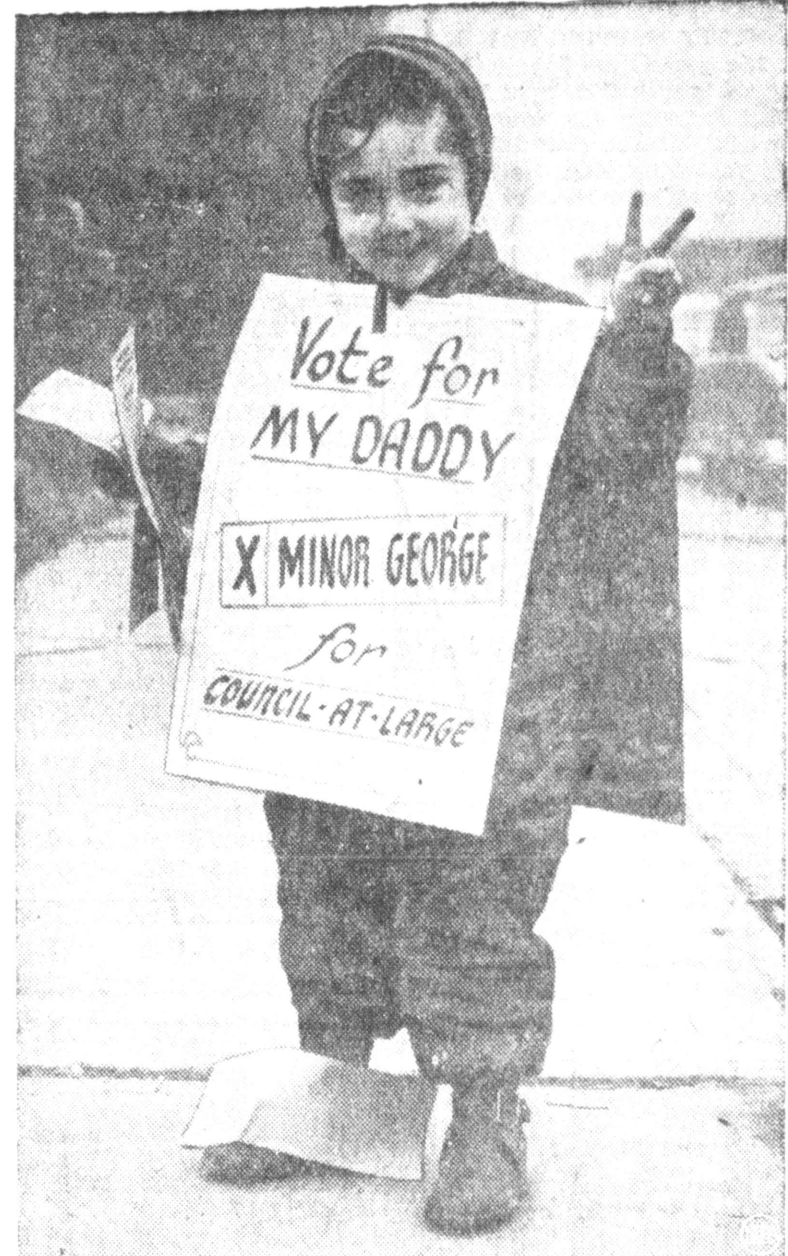

Illinois state police were searching for the wreckage of the plane, which Cheney said had only enough gas left for one or two minutes of flight when he left it.

Cheney said he had trouble with his radio that prevented him from making an instrument approach to the St. Louis Airport. He radioed that he was parachuting.

Cheney's craft was a low-level attack plane known as the "AU".

Churchwomen At Woodson Hear Mission Worker

WOODSON—On Friday, Nov. 11, the Unity Workers of the Woodson Presbyterian church met at the church with the members of the Ladies Aid of the Christian church as guests.

Mrs. James White led the group in a praise service and was presented by the president, Mrs. Albert Hoagland, who also introduced Miss Martha McCormick in a welcome. The Misses Katen and Peggy McCormick presented a piano duet and Mrs. John Becker gave readings.

The highlight of the afternoon and perhaps of the church year was an inspiring address by Helen Scott Soulsbury, a volunteer worker under the Foreign Mission Board. Telling of women's problems and universal questions she asserted that Christ is the only answer. Her picture of the deplorable needs in the church sponsored hospitals in India challenged our women to higher goals not only in giving but in personal devotion.

May Check Authors Of Books In U. S. Overseas Libraries

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge today upheld the right of Congress to inquire into the political beliefs of authors whose books appear in U. S. libraries overseas.

U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarragh made the ruling in denying a motion by author Harvey O'Connor for acquittal on a contempt of Congress indictment.

While denying O'Connor's motion, the judge did not rule specifically on the writer's guilt or innocence. This ruling will come later.

McGarragh turned down all legal points raised by O'Connor's attorneys. One was that a question as to whether O'Connor was a member of the Communist party at the time he wrote books used in the State Department's overseas libraries invaded O'Connor's rights under the First Amendment.

O'Connor, 58, of Winnetka, Ill., and Little Compton, R. I., appeared before the Senate investigations subcommittee, then headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), in July 1953.

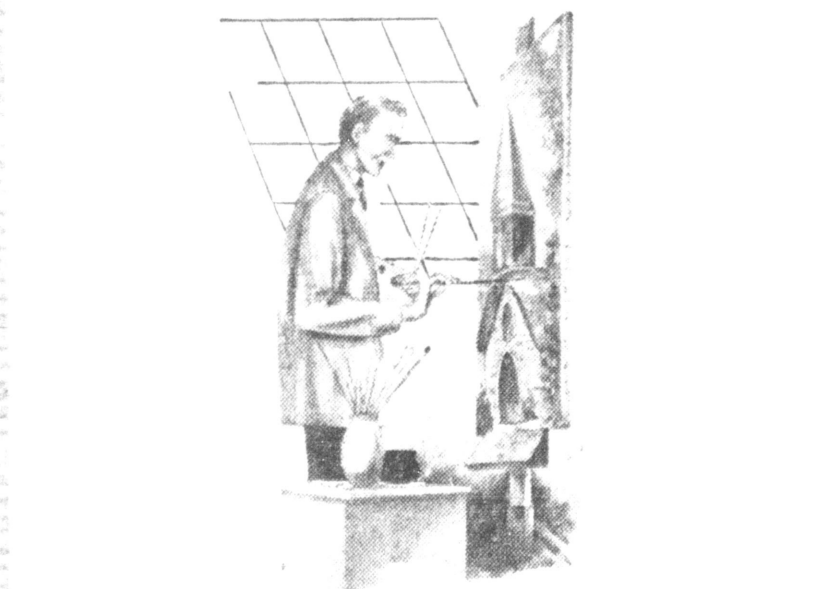

O'Connor, in refusing to say whether he was a Communist when the books were placed in the overseas libraries, contending his writings and political opinions were no legitimate concern of the subcommittee. He is the author of "Mellon's Million," "The Astors" and other books.

McCarthy, the government's principal witness in O'Connor's trial before Judge McGarragh without a jury, said the subcommittee was inquiring into whether the State Department was complying with the law in the administration of the overseas information program. He said he was not trying to censor books.

McCarthy, from the witness stand, described O'Connor as "a well known Communist and said he had been 'a paid Communist propagandist.'"

NAZARENE MISSION SCHOOL HEARS TAPE RECORDED MESSAGE

The fourth session of the Nazarene School of Missions was well attended Wednesday night, Nov. 9. After the congregational singing special prayer was offered. Rev. Anton Ends presented the lesson from the book, The Master Says Go.

A transcribed message by the general superintendent, Dr. Hardy C. Powers, was a special feature, after which Mrs. Ruth Ends sang a solo, accompanied at the piano by Ruby Stovall.

Reports were made by the secretary and the treasurer. Those receiving awards for the book reading course were Marilee Mussatto, U. J. and Ellen Brown, Dora DeWitt, Ida Petty and Fritz and Minnie Rolf.

The audience learned what was meant by "the corniest meeting of the year." They were presented with a small plastic bag containing five grains of corn which represented five blessings. They were asked to relate five blessings which they had received and to match the five grains of corn with an offering for Thanksgiving.

An interesting contest between men and women is being arranged for the Thanksgiving offering representing two kinds of corn. "The Country Gentlemen" represents the men and the "Golden Bantam" the women. U. J. Brown was appointed captain for the men and Glenna Twyford, captain for the women. The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 7, at the church.

Cites Low Productivity Of Russian Farmers

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 — Low productivity per worker, compared to American family farms, is apparent in Russian agriculture, according to Herbert W. Pike, Iowa farmer who was among 12 Americans who visited the Soviet Union recently.

Pike spoke at the annual meeting of the Illinois Livestock Marketing Association today at the Sherman Hotel. About 5,000 Illinois farm men and women are attending the 41st annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association and affiliated companies at the Sherman. The meeting of the statewide Farm Bureau group continues through Thursday.

"While Russians are using much large-scale machinery, it has not displaced hand labor to any degree," Pike said. "For instance, sowing and combining of wheat is fully mechanized, but after harvest cleaning requires much hand labor and excessive handling."

"Our wheat comes from the combine as clean as their wheat comes from the cleaner. The Russians combine wheat with a higher moisture content, which accounts for much of the foreign matter," Pike said.

Too Much Labor

In visiting many different farms and a dozen agricultural experiment stations, Pike stated, "You might think an Iowa farmer would see a number of ideas adaptable to his own farm. But the amount of labor used made their methods impractical.

"We did see one idea which might conserve space," he added. "In a swine farrowing house, the pigs had a nest in a balcony above the sow, and went down a small ramp alongside the pen for dinner."

Pike reported that Russian farm machinery is either patterned after American machinery or is designed on such a large scale that it's impractical by American standards.

He said that Soviet crop yields do not equal U. S. yields for comparable areas.

"Most of the corn is cut green for silage. The ears are chopped and stored for swine feed, and the stalks are chopped and stored in another silo for dairy cattle feed," Pike stated.

"With fats and oils in short supply, I expected to find soybeans in Russia, but I was told the weather is too dry and that they don't yield well."

Good Hogs

Pike said the Russian white hog, resembling our Yorkshire, impressed him favorably. "They are prolific and of good type, although the Russians feed them to excessive weights to get more fat. Fat is at a premium over lean meat in Russia, because they have few sources of vegetable fats. Our premium carcass is limited to 1½ inches of backfat, while their premium grade must have at least three inches of backfat."

The Iowa farmer reported that dairying makes sense for the Russians, because of the amount of labor available. "This is also true of other high-labor enterprises like poultry, vegetables, and fruit farming."

"Beef breeds, as we know them, do not exist in the Soviet Union," Pike said. "I did see some Whiteheads, a cross of Hereford bulls on native cows, but most cows are kept for milk and the steers are used for draft or meat."

"The Russian beef is as lean as the pork is exceptionally fat, and sells for less than fat pork," Pike concluded.

Illinois Livestock Marketing President M. Ray Ihrig, Adams county farmer, reported the cooperative handled more than 800,000 hogs for the fifth straight year. Volume in fiscal 1955 totaled 810,121.

Plan More Auctions

ILMA has begun distributing feeder cattle, purchasing fat cattle, and conducting lamb pools, Ihrig reported. These services were added because Farm Bureau members requested them, and they will be enlarged to meet demand, he added.

Interest in cooperative livestock auctions on an area basis may be nearing the end of the talking stage, he said, and action in this field seems close.

ILMA distributed 5,855 head of feeder cattle through its 18 member company yards. The cooperative purchased 7,152 head of fat cattle and calves on farms for sale direct to packers. Two lamb pools resulted in the purchase of 3,307 lambs, Ihrig said.

'Good Breakfast' Would Cure U.S. Farm Surpluses

CHICAGO, Nov. 15—An adequate protein diet for every man, woman, and child would go far toward solving many of agriculture's problems, according to E. V. Stadel, associate secretary of marketing for the Illinois Agricultural Association.

He spoke to Rural Youth members in their conference at the 41st annual meeting of the IAA, state-wide Farm Bureau organization, in the Sherman Hotel.

"The United States ranks fifth among nations in the per capita consumption of meat, and 13th among nations in per capita consumption of milk," Stadel said.

"Increased consumption of these high-protein foods would be an excellent health measure, in addition to going a long way toward helping farm surplus problems."

Stadel pointed out that while total farm output is rapidly increasing, net farm income has declined for the past several years.

"Large amounts of wheat, feed grain, cotton and other farm products are in government storage," he told the young farm people.

"These products in government storage have not been marketed. They must be moved into consumption before the marketing process is completed," Stadel said.

"Our job is to move farm production into channels of consumption, and not rely on government aid," he added.

"We are letting other nations outshine us in quality of diet. If every American citizen would eat an adequate breakfast, this alone would bring consumption into line with production," Stadel stated.

"American farmers, through their ingenuity, have demonstrated their ability to produce. The application of research findings and perhaps new research in marketing along with hard work and straight thinking, can bring the same results in marketing that they have in production," he concluded.

RESORT 400 YEARS OLD

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP) — Kashmir, despite political unrest and the unsettled Indian-Pakistan dispute for its control, is still India's top tourist attraction. A record 40,000 tourists visited Kashmir valley last season. There were only 1,480 foreigners, the rest Indians.

It has been the Queen of summer resorts in India for 400 years. It was first discovered by the Moghul emperors. The British preferred nearby, easily-accessible Simla, 200 miles north of Delhi, for their summer capital; but went to Srinagar for a real holiday.

An exhibition of twenty-five Ethiopian paintings will be on view at the David Strawn Art Gallery from Nov. 16 through Nov. 23. Lent by Dr. Bruce Howe Archeologist and painter, and sponsored by His Excellency Yilma Deressa, the Ambassador of Ethiopia, this unusual and fascinating exhibition is circulated by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service, Washington, D. C.

The contemporary Ethiopian paintings presented here for the first time, reflect a long-established tradition going back to the illuminated manuscripts of Coptic Christianity. Religious and historical subjects persist today and in addition there are scenes from daily life such as hunting, farming, weaving and basket making, all showing vivid plain colors and heavy black outlines on parchment.

These charming examples of the indigenous popular art of Ethiopia are works of three artists, Tesemma, Yetbarak and Belatchew. The exhibition was organized by John Russell Mason, Librarian and Curator of Art, The George Washington University Library, Washington, D. C. He also prepared a statement for the catalogue on Ethiopian painting in which he points out: "The earliest surviving manuscripts date from the 14th and 15th centuries A. D. and are in Ethiopic, the ancient language now conserved only in the liturgy. They deal primarily with religious matters such as Biblical and Apocryphal books, the liturgy, the lives of the saints, church history and such chronicles as that of King Solomon and Queen of Sheba, but cover as well law, philosophy, royal chronicles and even a life of Alexander the Great."

Mr. Mason continues: Ethiopian paintings today constitute a single school of painting where in very recent creations may be virtually indistinguishable from those of the 19th century. Prior to that time little is apparently known of any popular art, as opposed to that in the manuscripts, and religious art seems to have filled the whole stage."

In her Washington Post column of March 14th, 1954, Leslie Judd Porter has this to say about the paintings. "Although they are crudely painted and naive in treatment, they are done with such spirit and charm that they must rank high as expressions of indigenous popular art."

The 1956 Buick SPECIAL 4-Door Riviera

THIS ONE is the news-maker that's front-page big.

This one is the new Buick SPECIAL for 1956 — the biggest bundle of high-powered energy and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

Just a quick listing of some certain facts will give you the picture.

First—its engine is a big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine with an all-time high in horsepower for this Series—and an engine that hits the record book at a neat 8.9 to 1 compression ratio.

Second—its getaway—with the double-action take-off of the new Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—is spectacular even at only part throttle—and comes with a new boost in gas mileage to boot.

Third—on ride, this new SPECIAL is more than great — what with all-coil springing, and torque-tube stability, and a new deep-oil cushioning, and a whole new front-end geometry that adds a wonderful "sense of direction" to the car's travel.

Fourth—on room, luxury, interior finish — there's never been a Buick SPECIAL like this before. From the big, broad seats to the stunning new instrument panel—there's new decorator smartness and quality throughout.

But get the picture on price, and you have the biggest reason why this sizable automobile is so extra special a buy.

For this Buick comes to you at a figure so close to those of the most widely known smaller cars, the difference in price is small change.

So—come in and see and sample this beauty. You'll find it, we firmly believe, the biggest package of automobile at anywhere near its budget price.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

OH, YEAH!—A glance at this picture and you'd think breakfast in bed and morning serenades were part of Marine Corps life. But what's really going on here is a pay-off on a contest. Port and Starboard sections of Naval Supply Center's Marine Guard at Oakland, Calif., competed to see which could donate most to a United Crusade fund drive. Starboard won. So having breakfast in bed is Cpl. Herbert A. Shaffer, while Cpl. Henry R. Milam strums him a good-morning serenade on a ukulele.

PLASTIC ARMOR—A new reinforced plastic armorplate, recently approved by the Navy and Air Force, makes it possible to protect larger areas on planes, vehicles and vessels from flak and small arms fire. It is light weight—a 20-square-inch piece weighing 10 pounds as compared to 40 pounds for the same size in metal. Photo shows test at Bassons Industries Corporation, New York City, where researchers proved that a .22-caliber bullet, at velocities up to 2858 feet per second, will not penetrate the armor, but will remain imbedded in it.

IT'S MOUNTAIN GROWN...

Oklahoma, Maryland And Michigan State Rate 1-2-3 In AP Poll

Teammates Pick George Cooper As Most Valuable

ROODHOUSE — (SPECIAL) — George Cooper was elected by his teammates as the most valuable player and one of the honorary captains for the 1955 football season.

George Cooper

Cooper led us to second place in the conference with his running as he averaged 5.5 yards per try. He gained a total of 378 yards in 69 attempts. He threw a total of 16 passes completing 7, 3 of which went for touchdowns. His total passing yardage was 197 yards with an average of 60% completed. He scored 22 points (these statistics were gathered from Illinois Valley Conference play only).

Roodhouse is a member of the Illinois Valley Conference along with Pittsfield, Jerseyville, Pleasant Hill, Carrollton, White Hall, Greenfield, and Winchester. His efforts have helped us to complete a 5-2 record in conference play, losing only to Pittsfield and Jerseyville, the two strongest teams in the conference.

Gary Cregille, senior quarterback, was also elected as captain for the 1955 football season. He threw a total of 51 passes completing 23 for a total of 272 yards. This gave him an average of 45% on his completions; two of which were good for touchdowns. Cooper and Cregille feel that without the efforts of their fellow teammates, the Roodhouse Raiders would not have succeeded in getting second place in the Illinois Valley Conference.

FOOTBALL FATALITIES DROP ABOUT HALF AS COMPARED TO 1954

CHICAGO (AP)—High school football fatalities so far this season are about half the number in 1954, a survey by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations showed Tuesday.

The rate of gridiron deaths is less than one per 100,000 participants, according to the survey. The number of deaths in the past has run about 1.5 per 100,000 in prep football and slightly higher for college play.

Recent developments in protective equipment and game administration were credited by the federation for keeping injuries to a minimum.

BLACKHAWKS CENTER INJURED IN PRACTICE

CHICAGO (AP)—Hockey center Red Sullivan of the Chicago Blackhawks injured his leg in practice Tuesday and was rushed to Hennrich Hospital.

Sullivan suffered a severe cut across the calf of his left leg. Twelve stitches were required to close the wound. He is not expected to play against Boston on Friday.

Miami U. Of Ohio Could Get Bowl Bid: Also Lose Coach

BY HAROLD HARRISON
OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Sponsors of football bowl games — particularly the Gator Bowl — might be wise to take a look at Ohio's Miami University.

There is every reason to believe the unbeaten and untied Redskins might be in a receptive mood for a bid even though Miami boosters are a bit fearful they might win a bowl bid and lose a coach—for the third time.

Only a Thanksgiving Day game with a weak Cincinnati team stands between Miami and a perfect season. The Redskins already have locked up the Mid-American conference championship and their "outside" victims include Northwestern of the Big Ten.

Coach Ara Parseghian, nearing the end of his fifth season as head coach at Miami has a record of 38 victories, 6 defeats and 1 tie. That's an even better record than those boasted by two previous Miami coaches who took teams to bowl games and then were lured away.

By MURRAY ROSE
The Associated Press

Oklahoma, Maryland and Michigan State still are running 1-2-3 in the Associated Press' football poll and figure to stay up there after Saturday's play. There could be plenty of changes, however, in the ratings below the top trio.

Oklahoma is a 26-point favorite to beat Nebraska for the Big Seven crown at Lincoln and run its victory streak to 28. Maryland is the 27-point choice over George Washington and Michigan State, hoping to move into the Rose Bowl, is about the same over Marquette.

Notre Dame, fourth in the rankings, fifth place UCLA, and sixth place Michigan, run into trouble. All could lose without causing any shock to the onlookers.

The Fighting Irish are rated 10 points over Iowa but the Hawkeyes always spell aggravation to the men from South Bend. UCLA is a 10-point choice over Southern California in the big battle on the coast where the Bruins are aiming to seal a berth in the Rose Bowl. Michigan is given just a six-point edge over Ohio State at Ann Arbor. The Big Ten crown as well as the Rose Bowl spot is at stake in this climactic contest.

A victory by Ohio State would send Michigan State to Pasadena since the Buckeyes are ineligible to repeat their 1955 journey to the Rose Bowl.

Texas Christian is ranked seventh followed by Texas A&M, Ohio State and Georgia Tech. The Aggies and Georgia Tech are idle Saturday while TCU, aiming for the Cotton Bowl, is favored by 19 over Rice.

West Virginia, ranked sixth a week ago and then one of the three major all-conquering teams along with Oklahoma and Maryland, plummeted to 13th following its 26-7 pasting from Pittsburgh. The Mountaineers hope to rebound against a good Syracuse eleven Saturday. Navy and Auburn are rated just ahead of the Mountaineers.

Oklahoma has to beat Nebraska to clinch the Big Seven title again and then winds up its campaign against Oklahoma A&M. Maryland finishes its regular season against George Washington.

Then the two powerhouses will have it out in the Orange Bowl in Miami.

The top ten teams with first place votes and won-lost records in parentheses (points on 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 basis):

1. Oklahoma (103) (8-0)	1,844
2. Maryland (46) (9-0)	1,677

8. Texas A & M (7-1-1)	557
9. Ohio State (1) (6-2)	484

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—As one whose color perception is so vague our best bet would be a blurted "ain't it purty?" we continue to marvel at the abilities of the men who call horse races.

We ran across one of these technical artists at Laurel. He is Ray Haight, a young fellow who has been manning the public address system there for seven years.

When we first saw him he was standing in a little booth with a pair of field glasses trained on the field as it neared the distant starting gate, and was making a dry run. That is, he was repeating aloud, over and over and over, "Mystery Night, Mystery Night, Mystery Night, Steven S., Steven S., Steven S." and so on and on.

By repeating the name and looking at the jockey's colors at the same time he explained he could associate the horse with the colors as the field swept around the track in a gaudy blur.

He finished his dry run and turned around with a slow grin. We asked him if he was set for the race.

"I know them," he said, and went on to say that he had charted a field of 28 horses at Belmont, and had called a field of 23 over the public address system at Washington Park in 1953.

"I know the colors of most of the leading stables," he said, "so I just have to associate a horse with his colors."

"I've only made one bad call of a horse in front at the finish, and that turned out to make no difference, as the horses I had confused were running as an entry. Their colors were similar, one had pink and white and the other white, or something like that."

It was suggested that, in addition to having a keen color sense, a caller must have remarkable memory, as he has only three or four minutes before post time to memorize the horses and the colors.

"My memory is terrible," he said frankly. "I can't remember telephone numbers, or people's names, or anything. I guess you just get used to memorizing horses and colors."

SHREVEPORT MUST DRAW 140,000 FANS TO BREAK EVEN IN '56

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Bonnie Peters, president of the Shreveport's Texas League baseball club, announced Tuesday that unless attendance here reaches 140,000 in the 1956 season the present operational group will step out. The club will continue in operation in 1956 with the present ownership.

Last season, Shreveport drew only 94,000 fans with a team that finished third in the Texas League pennant race, won the Texas playoffs, and was defeated by Mobile of the Southern Association in the Dixie Series.

Peters said the 140,000 figure was necessary for the break-even operation.

MARCIANO CONTRACT WANTS NEW SIGNATURE

NEW YORK (AP)—Promoter James D. Norris said Tuesday that the International Boxing Club's exclusive contract with the heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano had expired, but that he hoped to sign a new one soon.

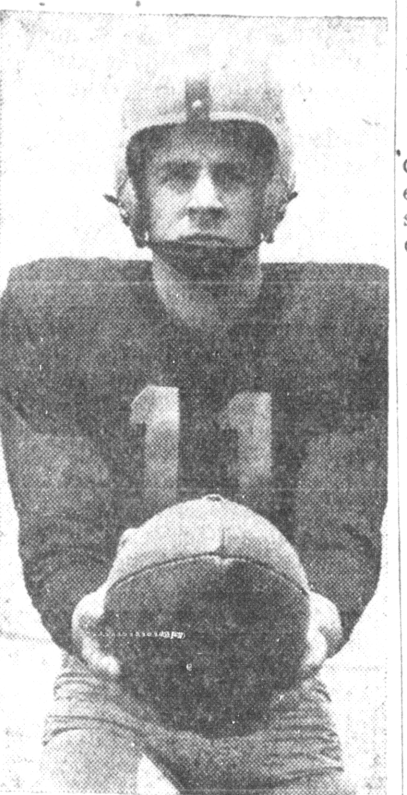

At the same time Norris, president of the IBC, said he wasn't too happy over the heavyweight champion's current refereeing tour mapped out by manager Al Weill. This seemed to indicate some sort of a rift between Norris and Weill.

'Eliot Fears Northwestern' And Records Bear Him Out

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. Nov. 15 — "ELIOT FEARS NORTHWESTERN!" And there's no joke to this axiom as Illinois began heavy work today for the season's final Saturday at Evanston.

The Illinois coach is serious and certainly history gives him reason for concern. During the 13 previous years in which Ray Eliot has coached Illinois his teams have met Northwestern on final Saturday of the schedule. On just five of those occasions have the Illini had a happy ending.

EM LINDBECK
Illinois Quarterback

Em Lindbeck ranks as the team's top passer on 33 completions in 71 attempts for 480 yards and three touchdowns. Bob Deshaens still leads receivers with nine catches for 153 yards, trailed closely by Woodson, who has caught eight for 150 yards.

Lindbeck and Mitchell share the scoring lead with four touchdowns each, and Woodson tops punters with a healthy 40.3 average in 20 kicks.

Northwestern played its finest game of the 1954 campaign against Illinois for a 20-7 victory which gave the Wildcats a lead in this long rivalry for the first time since it began in 1892. The Wildcats now own 23 victories, Illinois 22, with three games having been tied.

Eliot also remembers a 14-7 loss at Evanston in 1950 which deprived Illinois of a Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl bid and how desperately the 1951 squad had to work for a 3-0 triumph which brought the title and invitation to Pasadena.

For these reasons, Eliot will keep his squad buckled down to heavy work all this week. The regulars who battled for a 17-14 triumph over Wisconsin at Madison last week had only light drill in sweat suits Monday, but Eliot figures on scrimmages for both Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Illini came out of the Badger engagement in good physical shape. Bob Deshaens, senior right end from Chicago (Weber), suffered a slight concussion when kicked in the head but has been pronounced OK by trainers.

Harry Jefferson, junior left half-back from White Plains, N. Y., who sat out most of the Wisconsin game because of rib injuries, should be ready for fulltime action, leaving Bob Baletto, junior guard from Streator, as the only doubtful case.

Jefferson, however, may have difficulty forging his way back into the starting lineup over Bobby Mitchell, sophomore from Hot Springs, Ark., who in two short weeks has become the hottest running back in Big Ten football.

Mitchell stepped into the Michigan game when Jefferson was injured and grabbed the headlines with brilliant ball carrying that brought him 173 yards in 10 attempts a 64-yard touchdown run, and fame as a game breaker.

Against Wisconsin, Mitchell was just as sharp, although he was charged with two fumbles. He picked up 118 yards in 14 carries and had a scoring jaunt of 39 yards through Badger defenders. Thus, in two contests, Mitchell has amassed 257 yards.

Ashland Swamps Tallula 97-22

TALLULA — (SPECIAL) — Ashland started its basketball season off with a bang last night defeating Tallula on their own floor 97-22. Lynn, Ashland center, led the scoring honors with 29 points. Bass, a forward, was next in line for Ashland with 22. Swatzell led the scoring for Tallula totaling 10. Ashland plays host to Greenville Friday in a conference game.

KRAMER GUARANTEES TRABERT $25,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tennis promoter Jack Kramer, making official what had been rumored for days, Tuesday announced that Richard (Pancho) Gonzales will provide the main opposition for amateur champion Tony Trabert in the coming professional tour.

Kramer said that the winner of the scheduled 100-match tour will receive a guaranteed $25,000 bonus. The tour will start in New York City Dec. 9.

Hailstorms in the United States may cause several times as much damage as tornadoes during the year.

ed 291 yards on the ground in 24 carries, an amazing average of 12.1 per try.

In brief appearances in previous games, Mitchell had covered 106 yards in 21 attempts, giving him a season's total of 397 yards in 45 attempts. Add to that five pass receptions for 73 yards and he had a total offense mark of 470 yards, truly remarkable for a youngster who started his first collegiate game last week.

Performances such as that of Mitchell have enabled Illinois to maintain an outstanding total offense record for the year. The Illini have averaged 340.2 yards per game in combined rushing and passing totals.

Illinois will travel by train to Chicago Friday for the Northwestern encounter and Coach Eliot has scheduled a work out in Dyche Stadium during the afternoon.

Team headquarters will be at the Edgewater Beach Hotel.

David Prince Opens Cage Season With Havana Thursday

David Prince entertains Havana grade school this Thursday to open its 1955-56 basketball season. The 7th grade (A) squad will start a preliminary game at 6:30. The 8th grade (A) team game will get underway around 7:30. Coach Paul Keller has scheduled 12 games and will play in two tournaments. David Prince will play host in its own tourney Feb. 1, 2, 3.

Schedule	Time

Baseball Writers Vote Higgins As Top AL Manager

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike (Pinkie) Higgins, whose Boston Red Sox made an unexpected bid for the pennant, is the American League manager-of-the-year.

The affable newcomer to the managers' club made off with the prize in his first year, nipping the venerable Casey Stengel, whose New York Yankees made off with the flag, in the vote conducted by the Associated Press.

Higgins, 46, picked up 39 votes from the 99 members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America who participated in the AP poll. Stengel had 35.

Higgins took over in Boston in the wake of Lou Boudreau, who moved on to Kansas City. Confronted by youngsters and an undecided Ted Williams, Higgins promised "we won't finish 42 games behind the pennant winner again" and "we won't lose 20 of 22 to Cleveland."

He was right on both counts. Although the Sox again wound up fourth after a sustained bid, they won 16 more games than they did in 1954 and showed improvement all around.

Behind Higgins and Stengel came Marty Marion, who had his Chicago White Sox in contention most of the way, and Boudreau, who surprised with a sixth place finish for the Athletics.

Marion was awarded 16 votes. Boudreau received four. The other four ballots favored Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers and Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians on an even basis.

Iowa Station Asks NCAA Ease TV Regulations

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—A direct request to the chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. for relaxation of its rules on televising of college football games was announced Tuesday night.

William B. Quorton, general manager of Station WMT-TV Cedar Rapids, said he had telegraphed the request to Asa S. Bushnell in New York City.

Quorton told Bushnell he understood that Douglas Mills, the Big 10 district member of the NCAA television committee was recommending that WMT-TV be allowed to carry the Iowa-Notre Dame football game Saturday at South Bend, Ind. Then he added:

"We appreciate this privilege but lines and pickup costs are prohibitive for just one station. Because there are no other games in the state and because the NCAA game on the national hookup is on the west coast and does not start until 3:30 p.m. Iowa time we are hopeful that these unusual circumstances will prompt NCAA to grant us permission to carry the Notre Dame-Iowa game over the other three CBS stations in Iowa."

Quorton also said WMT-TV would like to feed the Iowa game to WHBF-TV in Rock Island, Ill., in addition to KRNT-TV, Des Moines; KGLO-TV, Mason City, and KVTN-TV Sioux City.

Harness Racing Commissioner Cracks Down

NEW YORK (AP)—State harness racing commissioner George P. Monaghan, who has been handing out penalties right and left in the last couple of weeks, Tuesday cracked down hard on Frank Safford, a leading driver and owner and three other persons.

He suspended Safford, one of the big names of the standard bred sport, until June 1, 1956, and barred his horses from competing on New York tracks for the same period. Safford reportedly owns or has an interest in 20 trotters and pacers.

Monaghan said Safford, of Southern Pines, N. C., had "testified falsely under oath," and "had associated with a known gambler." The "known gambler" is Byron (Doc) Evans of Yonkers, N. Y., said Monaghan. The commissioner barred Evans for life from New York tracks.

Monaghan also suspended for one year trotting owner Jack Banks and his wife "for conduct detrimental and prejudicial to the interest of harness racing." The New York couple owns trotter Wyn Hanover.

'56 Cardinals Play 11 Doubleheaders At Busch Stadium

Santa Claus is coming a bit early to Cardinal fans with the announcement by General Manager Frank Lane that the Red Birds will play 11 doubleheaders at Busch Stadium in 1956.

The official 1956 home schedule shows that nine of the twinbills will be on Sundays and two on holidays (Memorial Day and Labor Day). There will be two doubleheaders each with New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Cincinnati, and one each with Milwaukee, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh.

The Cardinals will also return to the night opener next season, the schedule showed. Milwaukee will be the opponent on Friday night, April 20, at 8 p.m. In the past two seasons Red Bird openers have taken place in the daytime.

The playing of Sunday doubleheaders and Saturday afternoon games is part of a new policy Lane has instituted.

"Playing Sunday doubleheaders will reduce our number of night games," Lane said, "but I think this move will be popular with the fans, particularly those who come from some distance. For another thing, it will give the players a day off most weeks."

All Monday through Friday games will be at night. In all there will be 43 night contests, as opposed to 55 in 1955.

Orders are now being accepted for all 1956 games, although they will not be filled and mailed until approximately April 1. However, Ticket Supervisor Nat Hall suggested ordering as soon as possible because of the large crowds expected for the Sunday doubleheaders particularly.

"We have been sold out weeks in advance for Brooklyn single Sunday games in the past," Hall said, "expect the doubleheaders will have a similar acceptance."

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market headed toward a new record high Tuesday but its drive was cut off by profit-taking.

It managed to produce a mixed close with prices a little higher on average but with more losers than gainers in the list.

The market has been forging ahead steadily for several days, and the high prices proved to be too much for money-minded traders who sold to turn their paper profits into cash.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $180.20. That is only 31¢ under the record high established Sept. 23 just before the market took a nose dive on news of the president's illness.

The rise Tuesday, however, was modified by the fact that the industrial component advanced $1.30 but the rails lost 70 cents while the utilities remained unchanged.

There also were more losers than gainers in the list of 1,198 issues traded—412 up and 521 down. Thirty-one stocks made new highs for the year while 10 reached new lows.

Volume was good at 2,560,000 shares but it couldn't match Monday's 2,760,000.

General Motors for the fifth straight time topped the most active list but it declined Tuesday for the first time—off 1/4¢ at 52 1/2¢ on 150,000 shares. It was selling ex-dividend $1.

Chrysler, which was down a small fraction at one time, caught fire late in the session and rushed up for a gain of 3/4¢ at 98 3/4¢ as the day's second most active issue.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—Hogs made a small recovery Tuesday after the severe break of the previous session.

Butcher hogs mostly sold 25 cents higher while sows were steady to 25 cents higher. However, the top on butchers at $13.50, paid for a 65 head lot, was up 60 cents from Monday's 14 year low.

Salable receipts totaled 10,000. Most 190 to 220 pound butchers sold at $12.25 to $13.00 and 230 to 280 pounders at $11.75 to $12.25.

Prime steers topped at $24.00 with most good to prime going at $17.00 to $23.00. Buyers paid $18.00 to $21.50, the top, for good to prime heifers.

Cows sold steady to 25 cents higher at $8.50 to $11.50 for utility and commercial and $7.00 to $9.00 for most canners and cutters.

ALL GRAINS EXCEPT BEANS SCORE GAINS

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (AP)—All grains except soybeans scored modest gains in routine dealings on the Board of Trade Tuesday.

The upturn was led by wheat, stimulated by the fact supplies of cash wheat at Chicago declined substantially last week. Corn and oats were aided by firm cash markets.

Lack of processor demand for cash soybeans, along with further easiness in soybean meal in the cash market, held back soybeans.

Wheat closed 1 to 1 1/4 higher, corn 1/4-1/2 higher, soybeans unchanged to 1 1/2 lower and lard 8 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Strength in wheat was a carry-over from the last half hour run up of the previous session. This followed news stocks at Chicago had declined 560,000 bushels last week. They now total 15,416,000 bushels.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market finished lower Tuesday. Convertible issues, following the lead of their stock counterparts, led the downturn.

U. S. treasury bonds declined for the sixth successive trading day with intermediates weaker than long range issues. Over-the-counter dealers quoted the 2 1/2-2s of 1963 down 8-32 at 97 13-32 bid. The victory 2 1/2-2s of December, 1972-67, and the 30-year 3 1/4-4s lost 4-32 each at 95 9-32 and 105 6-32 bid, respectively. The 40-year 3s closed at 99 31-32, off 1-32.

Corporate volume declined to $3,690,000 par value from $4,420,000 Monday.

AWARD TWO SWITCHMEN $45,000 EACH FOR FALSE ARREST

CHICAGO (AP)—A Superior Court jury Tuesday awarded $45,000 each to two switchmen who sued their employer and one of its policemen for false arrest and malicious prosecution.

The switchmen are James W. Johnson, 37, and Houston Walton, 35, employees of the Belt Railway Co.

Thomas M. Haugh, 38, a railroad policeman, arrested them Feb. 22, 1949, and accused them of stealing two TV sets from a freight car. A U. S. grand jury indicted them and they were discharged from their jobs. A jury acquitted them March 9, 1950, and they were rehired and paid wages lost.

COUNTIES TO GET COPIES OF PHOTOGRAPH OF LINCOLN
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Copies of a rare photograph of Abraham Lincoln will be provided soon to all Illinois counties for display in county courthouses.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said Tuesday that reproduction of the photo, one used by the president in his 1860 election campaign, is now possible because of the 1952 discovery of the photograph.

The picture is believed to have been posed in the Sangamon County court house. Lincoln is often quoted as saying of the picture: "Well, that expresses me better than any I have ever seen."

EISENHOWERS GREETED BY HOME-FOLKS—President and Mrs. Eisenhower acknowledge good wishes of the townspeople of Gettysburg, Pa., after their arrival from Washington. The President will establish a "temporary" White House in the Gettysburg post office and remain for an indefinite time, while recovering from a recent heart attack.

President Will Meet With Security Council, Cabinet Next Week

chief assistant, Sherman Adams. Since the office he will take over in the Gettysburg Post Office still smells of fresh paint, official business with Adams was restricted to the big, remodeled farm home overlooking the distant Catocin Mountains.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference the chief executive went to sleep about 10 o'clock Monday night and slept soundly until 7:30. He said Snyder examined the President Tuesday morning and reported:

"He had a topnotch night and is feeling fine today. His pulse and blood pressure continue normal." To spectators several hundred yards away who watched the President wandering around the farm, he certainly looked like a vigorous man thoroughly enjoying himself.

It was a grey, chilly day. But the President was out shortly after an 8 o'clock breakfast, garbed in gray slacks and sports coat, brown shirt, brown and white polka dot bow tie, and a light tan western-type hat.

After walking a and standing around a while he climbed into his fringe-topped jeep and drove over to the neighboring farm of his friend, George Allen, to inspect a herd of Holstein cattle. Eisenhower himself is specializing on Angus.

All told, he was outside more than an hour and a half. Photographers got some shots of him with long-range cameras.

Says Party Should Work For Better America, World

Illinois Democratic leaders turned out for the occasion. They included Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, Cook County chairman; Jacob M. Arvey, Illinois national committeeman; James R. Anson, state Democratic chairman, and Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman.

James A. Finnegan, state secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who is expected to be named tomorrow as one of Stevenson's campaign managers, also was on hand. Finnegan declined comment on his prospective appointment.

Finnegan will share the campaign direction with Hy Raskin, former deputy to Mitchell when the latter was national chairman. Raskin is expected to carry the title of "executive director" of the campaign.

Stevenson's crowded "announcement party" was in sharp contrast with his outward reluctance in 1952 to run for the nomination. In that year, his frequent announcements all were to the effect that he was running for reelection as governor and nothing else.

Stevenson presented a picture of health as he faced the cameras, a little stockier and a little more thinly thatched than three years ago. Stevenson, who is 55, recently was pronounced in good health by his physicians.

In his own party, Stevenson appeared likely to face stiff opposition for the nomination from Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. Kefauver, who led on two ballots in the 1952 convention before losing to Stevenson, has indicated he will plunge into the race again in mid-December.

Gov. Averell Harriman a possible third major contender who will go to the convention as New York's "favorite son" has said he will not enter any primaries.

Stevenson is expected to announce Wednesday he will go into the March 20 Minnesota primary, where Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) is ramrodding Stevenson's candidacy.

Pennsylvanians also may find Stevenson an entry in a preferential primary test.

Stevenson's friends are talking also of an entry in the Florida and California primaries. In one or both of these he might collide head-on with Kefauver.

The Stevenson entry into the race found some prominent Democrats carefully remaining neutral. Among these, Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, speaker of the House, said his comment remains what it "has been all along."

"I'm not yet ready to discuss presidential candidate prospects," Rayburn said.

PRINCESS ATTENDS DINNER DANCE

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret, looking as lovely as ever, Tuesday night went partying with Americans. It was the first dancing party since her break-up with Peter Townsend. She went with her mother.

The smiling princess and other members of the royal family were stars at a dinner dance billed as strictly private and not official in the plush Regent's Park home of Ambassador and Mrs. Winthrop Aldrich.

U.S. Asks Early U.N. Council Meet On Applications

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States Tuesday called for an early meeting of the U.N. Security Council to consider applications for U.N. membership from 18 countries, including controversial Outer Mongolia.

This sudden move came as nearly two-thirds of the 60 U. N. members lined up behind a Canadian resolution urging admission of all 18 applicants. Diplomats said 35 members were committed and they expected more than the two-thirds to pass the Assembly.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate, maintained a public hands-off policy on Outer Mongolia as he requested the council to meet. A U. S. spokesman said the United States will abstain in the council vote on the five Soviet satellites, including Outer Mongolia, and will not veto them. He said Lodge believes Outer Mongolia cannot muster the seven votes needed to pass the council and the 40 needed to go over the Assembly hurdle.

The United States said the meeting of the council was requested in accordance with a resolution by the Assembly last December. This asked the council to make "positive recommendations" on new members.

Pike Grand Jury Indicts Five For Burglaries

PITTSFIELD—The Grand Jury for the November Term of the circuit court of Pike County convened Monday morning, returning sixteen true bills at the conclusion of its session, fifteen of which were against two Quincy youths, Robert Motley, 17, of 2061 Oak street and William Casey, 19, of 801 1/2 Monroe street, charged jointly with burglary.

The confession of the youths had previously been received by state's attorney Brice Irving and sheriff Virgil Griffith. The two youths admitted a long series of burglaries in south and west Pike County: six at Hull, three at Kinderhook and five at Pleasant Hill, in which both merchandise and cash had been taken.

Arraigned for plea before Judge A. Clay Williams Tuesday morning, both pleaded guilty and asked for probation. Their request was turned over to probation officer Hiram McKenna for investigation and the youths were returned to jail.

An indictment charging burglary was also returned against Edwin La Compe, John Carroll and Richard Moore of East St. Louis, indicted jointly for a burglary in Hull. La Compe is presently serving a term in Southern Illinois State Penitentiary at Menard.

Carroll and Moore, on being arraigned for plea Tuesday morning, pleaded not guilty. Both were released upon posting of a bond of $1,500 each to return for trial next Monday, Nov. 21, at which time the petit jury will be in session. A writ of habeas corpus was issued for the appearance of La Compe at trial Monday.

Graham said in a signed statement before federal officials that he worked methodically over a period of two weeks preparing the time bomb of 25 sticks of dynamite. He said it was timed to explode 90 minutes after he inserted it in one of three suitcases carried by his mother. The plane was 35 minutes late taking off here on the last leg of its New York-to-Seattle flight and exploded just 11 minutes out of Denver airport.

Graham's attorney, Jerome R. Strickland of Denver, said Tuesday Graham's statement was obtained by a "threat." This charge was denied by Kelley.

Strickland said Graham told him he had been "grilled about 16 hours without interruption, during the course of which it was suggested that unless he signed a statement, his wife would be put in jail. For that reason he signed the statement. But he denied any participation in the thing."

The lawyer said he talked with Mrs. Graham, who broke down and has been under sedatives, and quoted her as saying Graham "would certainly make such a confession to protect me."

Strickland said Mrs. Graham told him Mrs. King had herself given Graham the money to buy the policy on her life.

If convicted, Graham will get neither the proceeds of the insurance policy nor his share of his mother's estate. The Colorado Supreme Court has ruled that a person cannot gain money from a premeditated act against another person which results in death.

Charge Brown With Abduction Of Wilma Allen

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Palm prints of Arthur Brown, 30, ex-convict who says he murdered the wife of a wealthy Kansas City automobile dealer, matched those found on her car, the FBI said Tuesday.

And a state warrant charging Brown with the abduction of Mrs. Wilma Allen when she was shot last August 4 was issued here.

1955 CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

CHRISTMAS SEALS

fight tuberculosis

The Jacksonville Junior Woman's club that, in addition to specified civic and social projects of the national and state club federation, undertakes local projects for the community's benefit announces its latest endeavor. All 168 members of the club will sell in local stores two days the first week of December cake mixes to help finance the school system's special service division for exceptional children.

The chairman for the project are Ruth Wade and Velma Wise who met Friday night with the various captains to complete details for the sale. Betty Crocker products will be sold in local stores by Junior Woman's club members on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 2 and 3 in a highly publicized "Meet Your Neighbor Sale."

The project's success will provide funds to make possible a film showing the school system's special services to the exceptional child for health, education, remedial reading and psychological aid. The Recent Graduates group of the AATW just recently contributed nicely to this same project but more money is needed.

Members of the club who are store captains and who have been assigned definite locations are: Jerry Schuman and Shirley Hudson; Kroger; Carline Bomke and Doretta Brune, Godfrey's; Marge Winters and Rita Elshinger, Clancy and Thompson, South Main street; Jeanette Gruber and Phyllis Hocking, Scouts; Bernadine Lair and Donna Jones, Shay's Market; Virginia Davidsmeyer and Corrine Davidsmeyer, Brockhouse; Louise Stevens and Elaine Watson, Clancy and Thompson on West Beecher; Jessica Roberts and Lesaleen McAlister, Siebert's Grocery and Holkenbrink's; Dennis Miller and Frances Lynn, Jacksonville Foods on South Main street; Grace Duncan and Jo Anne Hill, Jacksonville Foods on North Main street; Kay Bersell and Ruth Linebaugh, A. and P. store and Cecelia Sorrell and Betty Wahl, B. and B. Market on South Diamond.

All other grocery stores in the city are also helping. Because of the long hours necessary for captains to spend with the stores it is impossible to provide every grocery store with captains. Club members will remind shoppers to buy the Betty Crocker products and help the club's fund for aid to exceptional children's special services in the local school system.

Predicts Labor Opposition To Lucas For Senate

CHICAGO (AP)—A CIO leader said Tuesday that the labor organization "probably" would oppose former Democratic Senator Scott Lucas if he decides to seek another term in the Senate.

Pat Greathouse, vice-president of the Illinois State CIO and regional director of the CIO United Automobile Workers Union, said he was expressing his personal view but added, "Other CIO leaders in the state with whom I have discussed Lucas feel the same way."

Lucas, of Havana, Ill., who lost his Senate seat to Republican Everett M. Dirksen in 1950, has been mentioned as a candidate in 1956. Greathouse, in an interview with The Associated Press said: "Certainly there are a number of other people in the state around whom we could rally greater support from our people than we could for Lucas."

Greathouse said he expressed this view to Lucas in a recent talk with the former Illinois senator.

The labor leader said there "are a number of reasons why the CIO would be opposed to Lucas as a candidate but declined to cite any at this time."

He said the CIO will make its official decision known when the Illinois Democratic State Central Committee meets to screen candidates for the 1956 campaign.

Stay Of Execution Granted To Three

CHICAGO (AP)—Two convicted murderers who were to die in the electric chair Friday were granted postponements Tuesday.

A third man who was to die Nov. 22 also won a stay of execution.

Murphy granted the stays of execution to allow Kenzig's and Jackson's attorneys time to make appeals. The indefinite stay was granted until the Supreme Court has completed reviewing Donaldson's conviction.

Jury Finds Lacey Death Accidental; Indicts Crossing

A Morgan County coroner's jury last night deemed the death of Robert Ora Lacey "accidental" and labeled the railroad crossing where he was fatally injured unsafe.

Lacey died last Thursday from head injuries sustained when the car he was driving and a train collided on the Wabash Railroad crossing on North Main street.

In part, the jury's verdict read: "We further find that this crossing is not safe for the amount of vehicle traffic passing over it. We recommend that a subway of suitable means be taken to remedy the situation."

Coroner William L. Hawks conducted the inquest at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the circuit court room of the Morgan County courthouse.

Members of the jury were Ralph Green, foreman; Harold Gillespie, Raymond Waters, John L. Hadden, Oliver Graves and Carl Bourn.

Urges Changes In Relief Laws To Correct Abuses

CHICAGO (AP)—A downstate farmer Tuesday urged changes in relief laws to correct abuses and to reduce what he termed "professional pauperism" in some counties.

J. C. McCormick of Olmsted, Pulaski County, made the proposal at the 41st annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Assn. on behalf of his county farm bureau. He appeared before the resolutions committee of the IAA which is drafting a policy statement for delegate approval Thursday.

"I am in favor of relief where it is needed," McCormick said, "but I am opposed to the abuses that are going on in it. These abuses lie in the law which permits many people to stay on relief 20 years or longer and in some instances all of their lives. Many of these people are professional paupers and pauperism is their way of life."

McCormick said that of a total population of 13,000 in Pulaski County, 2,213 are receiving some form of relief and the relief roles steadily are increasing.

McCormick said he knows of one woman who has received child aid for 14 illegitimate children and now three of her children have illegitimate children of their own for which they are receiving child aid.

Another woman in his area, McCormick said, receives child aid for three illegitimate daughters. The oldest daughter now has five illegitimate children and is expecting a sixth; the second daughter has three illegitimate children and the youngest has one.

"Meanwhile," McCormick added, "this woman in her 50s has 'worked' her way into general assistance and now is waiting until she is 65 when she will be eligible for an old age pension."

Israel Rejects Eden's Proposal

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP)—Premier David Ben-Gurion Tuesday night rejected British Prime Minister Eden's proposal to solve the Israeli-Arab dispute by territorial concessions. He termed the idea fantastic.

The silver-haired Premier, wearing Israeli army battle dress, told Parliament his government "will not conduct any negotiations on this basis." He warned that Eden's suggestion may "lessen the likelihood of peace in the Middle East."

As an alternative, Ben-Gurion repeated his previous offer for a "direct meeting with any Arab rulers to achieve a mutual settlement."

Ben-Gurion made this offer two weeks ago when he returned to the premiership after a period of retirement. Leaders of the surrounding Arab nations promptly rejected the idea.

Geese increased by about 43,000 over the total 10 days earlier while the duck flock nearly doubled.
